

MISS BRANHAM, PICKET,
TELLS THRILLING STORYRemoves Removal of Federal Prison Official for Treatment of Suffragettes.

An interesting fact in connection with the visit of Miss Lucy Branham, of Washington, suffragette and former White House picket, is the fact that Miss Branham underwent a term of imprisonment for two months. Her account of the experience is a thrilling one and an unpleasant memorial to the former keeper of the federal prison, who was removed from his post by President Wilson. In her recital, Miss Branham stated that two of her associates were knocked senseless by order of the officer, that the ladies were compelled to sleep on soiled bedding from cots that had been occupied by negro women and that the white and negro women had been herded indiscriminately in one compartment. The official boasted too loudly, however, of his abuse of power and authority, it seems, according to Miss Branham's story, and before his atrocities could be longer continued, they were brought to the attention of the higher powers. Miss Branham is here in the interest of the federal amendment.

Miss Branham stated in her street talk on Saturday afternoon that only two votes are now necessary in the senate to assure the passage of the federal amendment, and every one in sympathy with the cause was asked to appeal to Senators Shields and McKellar. The campaign through Tennessee is to start at Memphis April 9. The speakers will work east to Nashville, speaking at the capital April 11 and coming on to Chattanooga April 15.

Though once divided in their method of attack, practically all of the leading suffrage workers of the state have swung in on the campaign to put the federal amendment across and many of these leaders will co-operate in the drive in Tennessee.

She quoted from an official statement given out by Miss Sue White, of Jackson, in which she said: "President Wilson has recognized the importance of federal woman suffrage as a necessary step toward the democracy for which our boys are fighting in France. Certainly no loyal supporter of the president, whether he be a private citizen or a United States senator, can fail to accept at its face value the president's endorsement of this measure."

Miss Branham's name is well known in Georgia, since she is the author of a history of that state. Besides, a few years ago she had the honor of being awarded a bronze medal and $1,000 by the Carnegie hero board for saving the lives of two young ladies at St. Petersburg, Fla., where she was teaching at Southland seminary. Two of the young ladies, who were taking swimming lessons, were taken by a crocodile in a dangerous part of Tampa bay, when Miss Branham, hearing the cries for help, rushed from her classroom, jumped into the bay without removing any of her clothing and rescued the girls. A man who had gone to their rescue was himself drowned.

Miss Branham's father was born on the estate of which Ashland farm is a part, and his grandfather, Maj. Joseph P. McCulloch, was the largest landowner of Walker county, Georgia, and Hamilton county, Tennessee. His summer home, for years before the civil war, was at the old Natural Bridge house on Lookout mountain, therefore Miss Branham was no stranger in Chattanooga and vicinity, but was treading the ground of her ancestors and looking into the faces of those who knew her forefathers.

Miss Branham is now from Baltimore, and holds a degree from Johns Hopkins university, also from Wash-

DR. AND MRS. HUDSON WILL REMOVE TO OKLAHOMA

Mrs. Hudson Heard in Her Last Musical Program in Easter Cantata.

Mrs. H. R. Hudson, who for the past two years has been in charge of the music of the First Baptist church choir, appeared in her last musical program in Chattanooga Sunday evening when she took part in the Easter Cantata.

Dr. and Mrs. Hudson will leave some time this week for Oklahoma, where they will reside in the future. Mrs. Hudson is well known in music circles in Chattanooga, having taken part in many musical programs rendered by various organizations as well as leading soprano in church choirs.

Her voice has been the admiration of all who have heard her sing, and it is with regret that the music loving public, included in her wide circle of friends, give her up.

The entire service at the First Baptist Sunday evening was given to the church choir, which is composed of a quartet.

Dr. Harold Major closed the program with a short talk.
One young man, who last week named the Chattanooga Tank company, was baptized at the night service.

EASTER OBSERVANCE AT FIRST BAPTIST

Easter was fittingly observed at the First Baptist church Sunday. Over 800 were on hand at 9:30 o'clock for the Easter program, which was given by scholars of the different departments. It was a veritable "white" program for all the decorations were white with the exception of two large United States flags that hung on either side of the service flag.

The regular church service was attended by an exceptionally large crowd. Dr. Harold Major delivered an "Easter" sermon. He announced as a special prayer service for next Friday at noon, when prayer will be offered for the allied forces. He prayed especially yesterday morning that the allies may be successful. The quartet sang an Easter anthem.

SUFFERING OF 22
YEARS IS ENDED

Gains Twelve Pounds on Tan-lac and Her Health is Entirely Restored.

"Ever since I was eleven years old until after I started taking Tan-lac, recently, I've suffered misery with my stomach," said Mrs. Katie Owsby, a well-known Chattanooga, Tenn., woman, living at 121 Vine street, recently.

"I never knew what it was to be able to eat what I wanted without terrible suffering afterward," she continued. "I suffered with pains between my shoulders and my stomach just felt like there was a hot brick in it. It would get all bloated up from gas that formed and I would choke and smother so I could hardly get my breath. I was so nervous that often I couldn't lay in bed, but would get up and walk the floor for hours at the time."

"I had heard so much about the wonderful relief Tan-lac was bringing suffering people that I decided to try it and it's the honest truth, after taking five bottles I haven't a sign of trouble. I eat anything I want and never have any pains or even feel uncomfortable. The nervousness is all gone and I sleep sound all night long, and get up in the morning feeling fine and full of energy. I've gained twelve pounds in weight and my improvement is the talk of the neighborhood. All my friends compliment me on the way I look now."

"Tan-lac is sold in Chattanooga exclusively by the Live and Let Live Drug Co.—(Adv.)"
